WHY A FENG SHUI INSPIRED SOULfa

Our homes and furnishings hold energy or Chi, and our sofas are no exception. As a large primary seating space, our sofas have a significant energetic impact upon us, especially given the amount of time we spend on them.

Feng Shui provides a mindful approach to understand and improve the Chi patterns in our homes and furnishings. By incorporating Feng Shui principles, the Soulfa provides on-purpose, personalized seating to specifically support and enhance the energy in your home.

The Soulfa is a lifestyle investment designed to help create the optimal energetic environment in your home for happy living.

Your Soulfa will be especially created for you and your home.

Every Soulfa begins with a Feng-Shui consultation of the room in which it will reside. From there, I'll develop recommendations for you, and together we'll customize the perfect Soulfa for you!

Welcome! You are about to embark on a journey of comfort and support on all levels.

After hundreds of consultations as a Feng Shui practitioner, I am keenly aware of just how important our couches are and how much time we spend on them. Whether it's watching TV, reading, socializing, or just relaxing, for many of us, our couches are the go-to-spot in our homes.

Despite this, the energetic impact of our couches and furnishings has been largely overlooked. Even in today's vast marketplace, it is extremely difficult to find a sofa that combines the right shapes, colors, size and style to energetically support you from a Feng Shui perspective while providing the quality and comfort you deserve to enjoy every day.

And so an idea grew in my heart and mind: To create a line of home furnishings that combines both Feng Shui and fine craftsmanship to help bring harmony and balance to you and your home. Beginning this new line with a sofa was an easy decision. It's a primary piece of seating found in almost every home that carries a larger energetic impact.

This is how the Soulfa was born, a sofa designed to work for you, energetically supporting you and your home, even while you are relaxing.

I hope you will join me on this journey to create a comfortable and welcoming environment in your home. It would be my honor to work with you to customize the right and perfect Soulfa for you.

Best wishes,

Linda Ellson
