Linda Ellson is the class’s teacher and the owner of Feng Shui Your World. Ellson is a certified Feng Shui practitioner, a graduate of the American School of Classical Feng Shui, and member of the International Feng Shui Guild.

This year the program is pleased to have secured its favorite location, Unity of Buffalo. Limited to a more modest number of attendees in the interest of safety and well-being, Annual Energy Changes: The Year of the Tiger will be simulcast via Zoom, something owner Linda Ellson and her team learned to rely on last year.

“Due to the Covid-19 restrictions in 2021, we moved to an online format for the first time in the 17-year history of the program,” says Ellson. “It was a great success with attendees from across North America and around the world, including Australia, England, Taiwan, and Canada.”

Attendees of Ellson’s Annual Energy Changes class learn how Feng Shui energy can affect their lives, homes, and offices while discovering how the practice of Feng Shui can improve the coming year. Feng Shui is recognized globally for its ability to enhance wellness, wealth, and partnerships of all kinds.

The Year of the Tiger promises to be a year of transformation and a time to take action. This year, more than ever, it can be advantageous to implement basic Feng Shui, as the practice acts as a road map to support navigating the energies within our homes and our lives.

“I look forward to attending every year,” says Angela Abt, the owner of Santosha Holistic Center, who will co-host the event. “After being a student in the class for years, I’ve seen how Linda presents a lot of great information through a visual presentation that’s delivered in a really digestible format. It’s so helpful to me; I find it to be a really fantastic way to begin each year, and I am excited to support her effort to help others.”
